5. Disable the stock notification button for specific products

When you enable the extension from the Configuration section, by default, customers can subscribe to receive stock notifications of all products. Also, Out Of Stock Notification for Magento 2 supports admin users to disable the stock notification for any product they want. To do that, navigate to Catalog >> Products:

In the product grid, choose a product that you want to disable the functionality. You can easily find the Out Of Stock Notification dropdown on the product edit page:

6. How the product works on product category pages

When you enable the extension, the Notify me button will be displayed below every product:

- If not logged in customers click the Notify me button, they will be redirected to the detailed product page to continue the subscription process.
- If logged in customers click the Notify me button, they will successfully subscribe to the product alert without being redirected to the detailed product page.

➤ Note: Logged in customers will see the Stop notify button for products they have subscribed to on the category product pages:
